Metropolitan Commercial Bank Lends a Hand with Habitat for Humanity

Bank representatives spend day refurbishing local public housing's senior center

BROOKLYN, N.Y. - September 20, 2018 — Metropolitan Commercial Bank representatives recently participated in a day of service with Habitat for Humanity at the Sumner Houses—a New York City public housing complex located in the Bedford-Stuyvesant neighborhood of Brooklyn. Bank representatives spent the day painting the Sumner Houses' senior center—providing a fresh coat of paint to the lounge area, dining room, hallways and restrooms.

“It was an incredible experience for all of us to participate in Habitat for Humanity’s A Brush with Kindness program, an initiative that focuses on beautifying neighborhoods, community centers, playgrounds, parks and schools throughout the five boroughs,” said Cinnamon Chambers, Metropolitan Commercial Bank’s Vice President and Community Reinvestment Act Director. “The Bank continually strives to make meaningful contributions in the communities we serve and we look forward to continuing our partnership with Habitat for Humanity in the years ahead.”

In addition to providing the manpower to paint the senior center, Bank representatives had the opportunity to display their individual artistic creativity as they also painted colorful designs and flowers on the senior center’s walls.

This community service event was part of Metropolitan Commercial Bank’s expanding range of community engagement initiatives that are scheduled throughout the year in communities throughout New York City and on Long Island.
