Metropolitan Commercial Bank Provides More Than 200 Winter Coats for New York City Families in Need

NEW YORK, N.Y. – January 28, 2019 – Metropolitan Commercial Bank recently donated over 200 coats to New York Cares as part of the Bank’s annual Give the Gift of Warmth Holiday Coat Drive. The banking center teams at the Bank’s four Manhattan and Boro Park banking centers spent recent weeks donating new and slightly used coats of their own and encouraging customers and local residents to donate for fellow New Yorkers in need of extra warmth this winter.

The Upper East Side banking center, located on the corner of East 85th Street and Lexington Avenue, collected the most with a total donation of 107 coats. The Bank is committed to engaging in partnerships with community organizations like New York Cares that help better the lives of individuals and families in the neighborhoods the Bank serves.
